- First-generation college graduates
- People for whom English is not a native language

Fellowship Application Instructions

Applicants should complete the questions in the fellowship application form below. In addition, the following items must be uploaded as a single PDF in the relevant part of the application form:

1) A cover letter, not to exceed two pages, from the applicant explaining how the Fellowship year will fit into his/her upcoming career plans. The letter should include details of the candidate's training activities during the course of the Fellowship (e.g., human subjects training, coursework, skills development, grant preparation, etc). The letter should also describe any past or current research experience and committed or pending external funding.

2) A current curriculum vitae in the current Harvard format (<http://fa.hms.harvard.edu/faculty-medicine-cv-guidelines>). Although the Harvard format does not allow the listing of submitted papers, please add these along with the name of the journal to which the manuscript was submitted.

3) A Research Plan. This should include: (a) title of project, (b) brief abstract not to exceed 150 words, (c) description of the specific aims of the project, (d) background and significance of the proposed research project, (e) description of the research design, (f) description of methods, (g) discussion of proposed analyses to be used in the project, and (h) timeline for completing the project during the fellowship year. If a two-year full-time award is requested, a clear rationale for the extended project timeline should be provided. The Research Plan has an absolute limit of 4 pages, single-spaced, with standard type size of 15 characters per inch (using Arial or Times New Roman 11 font). One extra page will be allowed for a listing of referenced literature. Appendices will not be accepted.

4) A listing of other research resources available to support the project (e.g., supplies, technical assistance, diagnostic laboratory tests).

5) Mentoring is a key component of evaluating the candidate for an award as well as an important factor in the evaluation of the application. The mentor will work with the applicant to select a project that is feasible within the time frame and budget proposed. Support from the Fellow's faculty mentor is an important factor in the evaluation of the application. The mentor must address each item in the Mentor's Statement.

6) All projects will be reviewed closely for feasibility and the recruitment plan will be evaluated. Clinical trials in particular will need to clearly demonstrate feasibility. Projects involving large scale clinical trials with multiple groups must provide additional assurances that the proposed study has sufficient financial support and can be completed in the proposed time period. Projects that include drug studies or new devices that do not have approved IND or NDA certification at the time of application will not be considered.

7) Projects will be reviewed for their potential to contribute to health equity, including, but not limited to, fostering research that measures and reduces inequities in psychiatric treatment, and increased involvement (among research teams and study participants) of individuals from systematically marginalized groups/backgrounds.

8) The applicant is expected to work closely with their mentor to develop an application that is both scientifically rigorous and feasible within the budget and time commitment proposed.

9) A letter from the head of the sponsoring hospital department which needs to include a statement of willingness to assume the cost of fringe benefits, and commitment to protect time for research. (This letter is required for Dupont Warren, Kaplen, and Zinberg applicants but is entirely optional for Livingston applicants, and for the latter, would only include a statement of commitment to protect time for research by the department head to demonstrate institutional support for the feasibility of the project)

10) For the Livingston Fellowship only: please also include a completed Budget Page, specifying how the award will be utilized, with a brief justification for each item. If salary support is requested for a research assistant, the applicant must specify the tasks to be done by the research assistant and the tasks to be done by the applicant.
